FOR CAMP DIRECTORS

Your camp on Ten for Two

Three ways to be part of it. Claiming your page is always free.

Free

Claiming your page is free.

Claim your camp's page

- A full camp page families can find in search and on region pages
- Update your description, tagline, sessions, contact info and website
- Choose the photo families see
- Reply publicly to reviews
- Offer a perk to Ten for Two families
- Family info requests forwarded to you by Ten for Two

Premium

$400

for 12 months from the day you join

Everything in Free, plus:

- Family info requests delivered straight to your camp dashboard
- Your promo video plays on your own camp page (not the homepage)
- Camp news and updates on your page
- Session dates and rates on your page
- A Connect button on your page: parents send you a public message and you reply
- Add your tour dates and open houses

Featured

$1,500

for 12 months from the day you join

Your camp on the homepage

- Your camp prominently featured on the Ten for Two homepage, the first page people land on when they open our site: your camp video plays right here too!
- Only a limited number of these exclusive spots are available
- Everything in Premium
- An email alert whenever a parent sends you a Connect message
- A "Featured camp" badge on your camp's page
- A fun fact about your camp on your homepage card
- A Verified ✓ mark on your page
- A note from the director, plus photos of the owners or directors
- A second video and a photo gallery
- "In their words": testimonials shared by the camp, kept separate from parent reviews

Add-on for Premium or Featured: top of your region

Your camp displayed FIRST on your region's page (for example, the Catskills)
Only one camp per region will be allowed to have this placement
+$600 for 12 months from the day you join.

Already taken: Poconos

Reviews stay honest, no matter what. Featured placement is advertising. It never changes reviews or rankings, and every review for every camp goes through the same moderation.

Questions? Geri Shumer · geri@tenfortwocamps.com · 516-524-3476 · tenfortwocamps.com